BRITAIN, FRANCE O. K. FRANCO

FRANCO'S CHOICE?—Youngest son of former King Alfonso of Spain, Prince Don Juan, and his wife, Princess Maria Mnedes, of Bourbon, loom as the new royal rulers of war-torn Spain. It is said in foreign circles that they are favorites of General Franco.

'Impeach Chamberlain' Cry Rings in Commons

LONDON, Feb. 27 — Great Britain and France today formally recognized the Nationalist rule of Generalissimo Francisco Franco as the legal sovereign government of Spain.

EX-PRESIDENT AZANA
Quits Embassy

Their action, prearranged to come together, was generally regarded as a sign that the Spanish civil war, which has kept Spain in arms for more than 31 months and Europe in fear of possible continental conflict, was approaching its close.

Announcing British recognition in the House of Commons, Prime Minister Chamberlain said he had noted "with satisfaction" that Franco had pledged Spain to preserve her "traditional independence."

COMMONS IN UPROAR

"It seemed to the British government impossible to regard the Spanish Republican government, scattered as it was and no longer exercising settled authority, as the sovereign government of Spain," he said.

Cries of "shame!" rose from the opposition as government supporters cheered the announcement that the French government was also announcing similar recognition following the cabinet meeting in Paris this afternoon.

Chamberlain in his statement added:

"Even if the Republican forces in the southern sector should continue to maintain some show of resistance, there can be no doubt now of the ultimate issue of the struggle, the prolongation of which can only result in further suffering and loss of life.

FRANCO IN CONTROL

Kennedy in Warning to Britain On Palestine Jewish Changes

LONDON, Feb. 27 (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy told the British government today that drastic restrictions of Jewish immigration into Palestine and abolition of the British mandate over the Holy Land would have a "disastrous effect on public opinion in the United States."

Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax was reported to have told Kennedy that the British plan was by no means final and promised no change would be made affecting American interests in Palestine without first receiving approval of the United States.

Jewish delegates threatened to end a conference on the long-standing Arab-Jewish controversy unless Great Britain changed a plan to make the Holy Land an Arab state allied with Britain, with Jews relegated to minority status.

A convention between the United States and Great Britain signed Dec. 3, 1924, stated that no change could be made in the terms of the League of Nations mandate "unless such modification shall have been assented to by the United States."

YOUTH, 27, PLUNGES 3 STORIES TO DEATH AFTER WRECKING CAR

Philip Geiger, 27, son of Albert Geiger, Jr., Boston real estate broker and chairman of trustees of the B. A. A., died at City Hospital a few hours after plunging three stories from his apartment in the Fenway.

According to police, remorse because he had borrowed and wrecked his roommate's new car led young Geiger to the 50-foot death dive.

FATHER AT BEDSIDE

In his room, police said, was found a note addressed to "Bob," his roommate. "Bob" is Robert S. Kimball, who was stunned when he returned today from a weekend trip and learned of the tragedy.

On Saturday night, police said Geiger wrote in the note, he took Kimball's car and it was wrecked when it crashed into an Elevated upright near North Station.

He had no funds for repairing or replacing the wrecked car, Geiger allegedly said.

"I don't think the automobile was the real reason," Kimball said today, however. "I think it is just an excuse. I am quite sure the real reason was business reverses.

"He and I worked together for a Boston business machine company. Phil hadn't been doing very well. He worked on commission only and had a lot of bills.

"Although I had only been living with him three weeks, I found he was very sensitive. Of course, he might have depended on his parents, but he was too proud.

"I know he wasn't going steady with any girl."

Fear Missing Teacher Slain

PENNINGTON GAP, Va., Feb. 27 (AP)—Lee County sheriff, R. F. Giles, said today he had abandoned hope of finding alive Eliza Darnell, 25-year-old schoolteacher, who disappeared a week ago from her father's home at Keokee, Va.

Giles said the teacher might have been slain and her body hidden. Another theory was that she has been kidnaped.

SAY FIRST LADY HAS QUIT D.A.R.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today she had resigned from an organization with whose policies she could not agree, but refused to confirm or deny that the organization was the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Roosevelt was asked whether her resignation had anything to do with a current Washington controversy over refusal of the D. A. R. to let Constitution hall here be used for a concert by Marian Anderson, a negro singer.

She declined to indicate whether the resignation she was referring to was connected with the Anderson case. The First Lady sent a telegram yesterday to a citizens' committee protesting the singer's inability to get an auditorium here.

Viva, Franco!

Developments incident to Gen. Franco's victory in Spain today included:

LONDON—Commons in uproar as Prime Minister Chamberlain formally announced Britain's recognition of Franco as the Spanish government. Foes cry, "Impeach Chamberlain!"

PARIS—President Azana flees, and his Red republican government crumbles in Spain. France also recognizes Franco. Don Juan, King Alfonso's youngest son, slated to be King of Spain.

Waltham Mother Saves 3 Children from Flames

A mother carried a two-months-old baby and two other children to safety today as fire raced through a four-family home in Brown street, Waltham, imperilling a thickly settled neighborhood.

The heroine mother, Mrs. Winifred McNeill, 28, was eating luncheon with her children when the blaze started in a closet.

Driven back when she sought to extinguish the flames, Mrs. McNeill first carried the baby to the street, then went back and carried out Robert, 4, and Jane, 3.

From an upper apartment, Miss Mary Vanie, a school teacher, carried out her pet cat and dog and a family money box.

Bare Slain Dancer's Torn Life

Blighted Love Affair Probed

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27—Laying bare—bit by bit—the romance-torn life of Anya Sosoyeva, blonde Russian dancer, authorities today sought in newly discovered information to unmask her slayer.

Letters, pictures and receipted bills, investigators predicted, would disclose some clue to the one man who beat her to death three nights ago on the campus of Los Angeles City College.

The romantic collection of the things the dancer held dear was supplied police by Miss Beulah Ann Stanley, night school dramatic coach, who shared an apartment with her.

VISITED PHYSICIAN

Miss Stanley said:

"She had been so despondent lately over a blighted love affair that I had decided to sell my coupe and give her enough money to go back to San Francisco."

At the same time, an osteopathic physician reported to police that the flaxen-haired Russian visited him two weeks ago for a physical examination, complaining she was indifferent suddenly to the attentions of men.

A 34-year-old accountant, Kermit Anderson, who told of "keeping company" with the former Ziegfeld dancer for several months, furnished proof to police that he had joined friends in a poker game at the time she was bludgeoned.

Police here still held for further questioning Bernard Sutton, 33, janitor, who was found in Barnsdall Park a few blocks from the college campus last Friday night. Sutton is on probation on a lewd charge.

POOR ADELAIDE-- SHE'S BANKRUPT ON $750 A WEEK

ADELAIDE MOFFETT BROOKS

Bankrupt . . . Sings for Supper (at $750 per)

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (INS)—Adelaide Moffett Brooks, beautiful daughter of James A. Moffett, Standard Oil tycoon, and Mayfair songstress, became legally bankrupt today.

Addie went into bankruptcy owing $9691. Her creditors took everything including a 58-cent balance she had in the Chase National Bank.

Today up in her fashionable Sutton place apartment she is practically destitute. She did, however, manage to keep a bit of wearing apparel.

All that she has to her name is 35 pairs of shoes, 10 pairs of evening slippers, 29 silk scarves, 13 pocketbooks, seven evening bags, 31 sweaters, two silk negligees, seven bathing suits, and just a few scads of furs and dresses.

But the old meanie trustee in bankruptcy made her raise $1000 cash, sold her bric-a-brac at auction for $356 and raffled off four pawn tickets for jewelry she had "hocked" for $140. Then she was discharged from bankruptcy.

Why, Addie was so busted that she had to accept a singing job for $750 a week to feed herself and her two Sealyham dogs!

Charge Insurance Firms Force Aged Persons From Jobs

Employers' liability insurance rates are unfairly "jacked up" against firms employing elderly workers, it was repeatedly charged today at a State House hearing on old age pensions.

Insurance companies were assailed by several of more than 200 witnesses who appeared in favor of proposed lowering of pension age from 65 to 60.

BLAMES RISK FIRMS

The hearing was before a joint legislative committee on pensions and municipal finance.

"Men between the ages of 45 and 60 walk the streets looking in vain for jobs," Representative Daniel J. Minehan of Haverhill asserted.

"Much of the blame for this situation can be put directly at the door of the insurance companies.

"They jack up the employers' liability rates against firms that have too many elderly persons on their pay rolls.

DROP OLDER HELP

"They're afraid workers past middle age will get hurt easier or will stay out sick longer, if they are hurt.

"The result is employers relentlessly weed out their older workers and hire young ones."

Representative Harry Kalus of Boston called the old age unemployment situation "more serious than invasion of this country by a foreign power."

Kalus also blamed insurance companies for unwillingness of industrial employers to keep workers past middle age.

Suggestions for a state lottery to meet increased pension costs came from Representatives Besaette of New Bedford and Downey of Brockton after a spokesman for Governor Saltonstall declared that any increased cost must be based upon the ability of the state to pay.

Public Welfare Commissioner Walter V. McCarthy has estimated the cost of old age assistance would be increased by $7,000,000 annually if the qualifications were lowered to include persons in the 60 to 65 age bracket.

Quits Her Bed As She Waits Her 2d Twin

JASPER, Ind., Feb. 27 (AP) — Mrs. Robert Sherle, 28, awaiting arrival of a twin to a son born Feb. 15, got out of bed over the week end to dine with the rest of the family.

It was the first time she had been up since the first twin's birth. Her physician, Dr. L. A. Salb, could not say when the other twin would arrive.

Kane's Cops Must Ride Again, Maybe On Wooden Steeds

Discouraged at the first results of his mounted police traffic scheme, Mayor William F. Kane nevertheless announced today he will continue the experiment and there will be three more men of the department aboard city nags next Friday and Saturday.

Eventually, every man in the department will have a tour of duty aboard a horse whether he likes it or not, Kane decided.

He said the mounts, worn and aged dray horses, did "spneddidly," but the officers rated "zero," if not minus.

He's even contemplating getting them Trojan horses, which, being made of wood, can't joggle them or throw them off, he warned.

Riding should be part of a policeman's education, he insists, and besides, it's good for their livers and their waistlines.

"All those officers did with the horses was to snarl up traffic," complained Mayor Kane. "They were so concerned with staying on the horses' backs it took their minds off directing traffic.

"Now I've decided to get them a wooden horse, like that horse of ancient Troy. I've been reading up on ancient history and it gave me an idea. You know, that horse the Greeks used to get back that good-looking Helen of Troy after the Trojans stole her. And say, we've got girls here in Woburn just as good-looking as Helen. Maybe we'll get one to help the officers with the wooden horse.

"I'll let the cops sit on the wooden horse and direct traffic. They won't be likely to fall off and they won't be stumbling along endangering drivers and pedestrians.

Meanwhile, the mayor diverted a bit of his attention from the blue-coats and his firefighters with a new plan to put them to work winding and regulating clocks.

Nancy Carroll Back To Save Ex-Hubby's Broadway 'Failure'

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—Lovely Nancy Carroll of the movies is back on Broadway to "pay a debt of honor" to her divorced first husband, Playwright Jack Kirkland.

Within a night or two she will step into the leading role in Kirkland's new show, "I Must Love Somebody," which has been coldly received by the critics.

She, Jack and the director think she will put new life into the play, extend its run, mean the difference between ultimate success and failure.

Martha Sleeper

In taking the role, after her sentimental pilgrimage from Hollywood, she supplants Martha Sleeper, prima donna of the piece since it opened uncertainly on Broadway a month ago. Miss Sleeper will abandon the stage and go back to selling novelty jewelry to the rich.

As she arrived in this city, where she was in a pony ballet when Kirkland discovered her and pushed her to the heights in the film world, Miss Carroll said:

"Old loyalties linger on, even if loves wane. I can't let him down."

Kirkland also wrote "Tobacco Road," still running after six years on Broadway.

Nancy is the mother of Kirkland's 13-year-old daughter and the divorced wife of Bolton Mallory, magazine editor, whom she married after she divorced the playwright.

Following his divorce from Nancy, Kirkland married Jane Shadduck, film ingenue, then Julie Laird, who divorced him to marry a Long Island socialite. His current wife is Haila Stoddard, also an actress, who is now expecting the stork.

LOYALTY — Nancy Carroll, film star, will pay a "debt of honor" to divorced first husband, Jack Kirkland, by stepping into new show, supplanting Martha Sleeper.

BABY WILLIAM PERRY, JR., AND NURSE
Baby's Jaw Broken; Father Held for Cruelty

CRIPPLED DAD HELD FOR BEATING OF BABY

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 27 (INS)—Eyes blackened and both jaws broken as the result of a savage beating, baby William Perry, Jr., only three months old, was in a serious condition today in Barnert Memorial Hospital.

The infant's father, William Perry, 31, an unemployed chauffeur, was under arrest in St. Joseph's hospital, charged with assault and battery, as a result of his son's injuries.

He was held without bail for the grand jury on charges of assult and mayhem.

Recorder Vincent C. Duffy excoriated the emotionless defendant and said, "I think teat only Medieval forms of punishment might be fair in a case like this."

Perry, suffering from arthritis in both legs, is accused of having crawled from his bed in his furnished room to the crib of his son, who was whimpering and crying in his sleep.

Then, according to the child's mother, Mary 21, who married the chauffeur last August, her husband lost his temper and struck the baby in the face.

This occurred on Feb. 14, she told detectives, but she was so in fear of her own life that she failed to report the ocurrence to the authorities. Her husband threatened her with death if she "squealed," she declared.

RUSH AID TO BOSTON TRAWLER

Lashed by gales and in danger of being driven ashore, the Boston fishing trawler Delaware, with 16 men aboard, was reported today completely disabled off Sable Island, "graveyard" of the North Atlantic.

Returning to Boston from another mercy errand the coast guard cutter Cayuga was ordered to proceed under forced draft to the Delaware's assistance.

The Cayuga is expected to arrive off Sable Island by tomorrow afternoon.

Word of the Delaware's distress was flashed to coast guard headquarters by another vessel which gave radio call letters coast guard officials were unable to check.

The Delaware is one of the first streamline trawlers to be built at Bath, Maine. She was launched two years ago.

Booth Fisheries of Boston, owners of the vessel, said its captain was Morton Selig.

Pushing North End Track War

FATHER BACIGALUPO DISTRIBUTES PETITIONS

O. K. on Boston Garden Dog Races Defended by Murray

Without making a direct reply to North End protests against dog racing in Boston Garden, Acting Mayor George J. Murray today defended his vote for the concession as a council member and his approval of the petition as acting mayor, serving as such during Mayor Tobin's absence in Florida.

His statement came even as an organized drive for 10,000 protesting signatures got under way under the direction of civic and religious groups. He said:

"My action as a member of the Boston City Council in voting for the Boston Garden dog track and as acting mayor in approving that petition was based solely on the fact that the people of Boston voted by a margin of 2 to 1 to have dog racing here.

CARRIED IN 22 WARDS

"The measure was carried in each of the 22 wards of the city.

"The place chosen is strictly a sports arena and since we are to have dog-racing by a mandate of the people, Boston Garden is the proper place for it."

The protesting petitions will be presented to the State Racing Commission.

The protest, to which 500 names already have been affixed, was ushered in by a mass meeting in St. Leonard's Church.

There, the Rev. Roger Imperiale, church pastor, declared that members of the Boston City Council who voted to approve a dog track at the Garden were "a pagan, useless and conscienceless lot."

GRAVE ISSUE

"This dog track question presents a grave moral issue," he asserted. "It is an evil no Catholic priest or sincere citizen can keep quiet about.

"We are more sincere in our fight against it than the city council has ever been."

Among others who spoke against the track was Rev. Andrew Bacigalupo.

BLAST RILEY RULE AT TRUCKING QUIZ

Under Director Frank E. Riley, the office morale and conditions in the State Commercial Motor Vehicles Division are "terrible," the Department of Public Utilities was told today at an inquiry into Riley's activities.

The probe was ordered by Governor Saltonstall as the result of complaints by Public Utilities Commissioner Richard D. Grant that Riley has been inefficient, insubordinate and negligent in his duty.

Commissioner Grant was one of those conducting today's inquiry, at which David J. McCarthy, assistant director of the vehicles division asserted that conditions there are "terrible."

CHARGES RIDICULE

"Mr. Riley," testified McCarthy, "plays one man against another and at times ridicules certain examiners and investigators.

"In certain cases where the suspension of carriers' permits was recommended, the examiners and investigators have met with opposition from the director."

Walter C. Wilson of Lowell, treasurer of the E. A. Wilson Company, a trucking firm, testified that in 1937 he gave a check for $500 to an attorney, to whom he had been referred, and that later the attorney turned over to him an unrestricted carrier's license assigned to Theodore Bigby of Springfield.

Wilson said he had never seen Bigby.

WIDOW TESTIFIES

Charles F. McCue, counsel for the Department of Public Utilities and doing the questioning, pointed out that one of the rules of the vehicles division is that when a permit is transferred, both parties must be present.

It was testified by Mrs. Bessie A. Bigby of Springfield, widow of the trucker, that she did not know Wilson and that she never knew of her husband selling his unrestricted rights for $500.

NIAGARA OR . . . ?—Well, that's beside the point right now, because newlyweds Helen Hughes, American talent quest winner, and John Brooks, seem more interested in their name being spelled correctly in book at Mount Vernon Church, Back Bay, where they were married Sunday. They were schoolday sweethearts back in Houlton, Me.

NLRB HIT BY HIGH COURT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Supreme Court condemned today the action of employes who seized their employer's plant in a sit-down strike.

The decision, by Chief Justice Hughes, upheld the right of the Fansteel Metallurgical Corporation to discharge employes who seized two key buildings of the plant in a 1937 sit-down strike.

This was the third major decision delivered today by the high tribunal against orders by the National Labor Relations Board.

The three were the first important defeats administered to the board since enactment of the Wagner labor law in 1935.

"The employes," Chief Justice Hughes asserted, "had the right to strike, but they had no license to commit acts of violence or to seize their employer's plant.

"To justify such conduct because of the existence of a labor dispute or of an unfair labor practice," Hughes continued, "would be to put a premium on resort to force instead of legal remedies and to subvert the principles of law and order which lie at the foundations of society."

The two other labor opinions were delivered by Justices Stone and Roberts.

Justice Stone's decision set aside an order by the labor board directing reinstatement of striking employes of the Columbian Enameling and Stamping Company, Inc., of Terre Haute, Ind.

Justice Roberts' decision set aside a board order directing the Sands Manufacturing Company of Cleveland, O., to reinstate 48 employes.

JUSTICE SEES TO AID BLINDED TAXI DRIVER

In Roxbury court today Judge Frankland W. L. Miles had his most difficult case. Before him stood a taxi driver, Francis W. Eldridge, 39, of Ellsworth street, Jamaica Plain.

The man's wife guided him because, under the bandages over his face, the taxi driver had only a socket where his right eye had been, is left eye has less than one-quarter vision.

The tax driver, just released from City ospital after 10 weeks, was charged with drunken driving and operating so as to endanger.

On Judge Miles' desk lay a record of a previous conviction for drunken driving—and the law says that for a second offense a jail sentence is mandatory.

Eldridge had admitted drinking on Saturday, December 17, when his cab crashed head-on into a trolley car in Columbus avenue, near Egleston square. One eye was torn out in the crash, the other lacerated.

"I think this man has suffered enough," said Judge Miles. "He is a living monument of warning to all drunken drivers. It is only fortunate that nobody else was injured."

Then he interrupted proceedings and went into his lobby, where he telephoned Motor Vehicle Registrar Frank A. Goodwin.

Returning again to the bench, the judge gave the blind taxi driver a six months' suspended sentence on the drunken driving charge and filed the dangerous driving charge. His wife guided him out of the courtroom and they went home.

And there—in the mail box—was the notice Eldridge had been hoping to receive for two years, a notice to report for a WPA job.

BUDGET CUT PLAN SEEN 'MERCILESS'

"Most merciless attempt in Massachusetts' history to grind down the little fellow."

Thus did Representative Albert E. Morris of Everett, Democratic minority leader, today greet the proposed economy program of his Republican colleague, Albert F. Bigelow, House chairman of the ways and means committee, to reduce the state budget $10,000,000.

"It is an obvious attempt to pave the way for the governor's nuisance taxes," Morris added, with reference to Governor Saltonstall's recent proposals for cigarette, gasoline and other taxes.

The Bigelow proposal would bring about discharge of thousands of state employes, reduce salaries of 20,000 others and suspend highway construction in the state, cities and towns. It was advanced as the only alternative to new and increased taxes this year.

"UNTHINKABLE"

"Such a program is unthinkable," Morris declared.

"I would not believe that even the Republican purgers could dream of anything so unsocial. It makes the 'forgotten man' truly forgotten."

The reductions would be as follows:

Salary reductions, $1,500,000; suspension of step-rate increases to state employes, $300,000; elimination of unnecessary positions, $700,000, and suspension of state, county and local highway construction costs, $7,500,000.

Bigelow's program also was attacked by Rep. John E. Troy of Boston, who filed a bill to abolish the state's three-cent gasoline tax.

BLAST BY TROY

"I filed this bill," Troy said, "because I feel there will no longer be a need for such a tax since the proposal of Rep. Bigelow would do away with 5000 employed on road construction.

"Mr. Bigelow speaks in one breath of the burdens of the cities and in the next breath wants to throw at least 10,000 persons on the relief rolls in cities and towns.

"No person has to be of exceptional intelligence to fire thousands of employes but it does require brains to put some of the unemployed to work."

Scoffs Death Chair Charges

Charlestown state prison's 38-year-old electric chair, while admittedly of an outmoded design, is still serviceable, Warden Francis J. Lanagan declared today in scouting charges that it might break down during some future execution.

The charge was made by a legislative recess commission which described the Charlestown execution chamber as antiquated.

In the past 38 years nearly 60 persons have paid the extreme penalty in the prison's chair, Warden Lanagan said.

Hit-Run Car Injures Newton Girl, Escort

Mary Bianchi, 23, of Chapel street, Newton, and her escort narrowly escaped with their lives today when run down by an automobile near the Public Garden.

At City Hospital she was reported in serious condition with scalp lacerations and ankle injuries. Her escort, Joseph Fortinno, 26, of Clark street, North End, suffered leg bruises. The auto sped away, police said.

HAS BABY A NASTY COLD?

Relieve the Misery As Most Mothers Do

Rub baby's back, chest, and throat with Vicks VapoRub and tuck him deep into bed. What a comfort to know that VapoRub goes to work right away to relieve the misery of his cold without "dosing"—without risk of stomach upsets. And what a comfort to know that long after restful sleep comes, VapoRub will still be working—two ways at once—direct through the skin like a poultice, and direct to the irritated air-passages with its medicated vapors. You'll find that often by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Cutter on Weather Balloon Sea Test

On a history-making assignment—possibly a first step toward eventual safeguarding of transatlantic flying by establishment of an ocean-wide chain of floating weather stations—the coast guard cutter Chelan left Boston today.

The Chelan's errand is to make first tests of weather balloons flown above the open sea.

These balloons, capable of soaring to heights no airplane can reach, carry aloft weather-recording instruments and tiny radio sets which automatically report readings of the instruments.

GUARD AIR LINES

Land stations of the U. S. Weather Bureau have been using the balloons in increasing number and with increasing success during the past 12 months.

Aviation experts and veteran meteorologists now believe they see in the balloons a means of keeping close and accurate watch on ocean storms and air currents.

"Sentinels of the stratosphere, the tiny hydrogen-filled spheres with their sensitive instruments and their dot-dashing radioes, may guard the sky-paths of future air liners linking Europe and America."

TESTS ARE AWAITED

If the tests succeed—vessels of the coast guard's ice-patrol this spring and early summer will carry hundreds more of the balloons and use them regularly.

Next step, according to Coast Guard officials, will be establishment of fixed floating weather stations along principal over-ocean air routes.

One such station, with its balloons aloft, might well have prevented the recent wrecking of the Bermuda clipper Cavalier, in opinion of U. S. weather bureau experts.

CHELSEA FIRE LOSS $20,000

John J. MacDonald, 83-year-old father of Judge Paul J. MacDonald of Chelsea court, was slightly burned today during a two-alarm fire that caused nearly $20,000 damage to the elder MacDonald's sawdust and shavings plant, Chelsea.

High winds threatened for a time to spread flames to adjoining coal and wood plants in Crescent avenue, but firemen set up a curtain of water and saved the properties of the New England Coal and Wood Company and the Massachusetts Coal and Wood Company.

Edith Sellin

Judge MacDonald, hearing of the fire as his court session ended, hastened to the scene, and from there went to the side of his father, who had been taken home.

The elder MacDonald and Miss Edith Sellin, 22, of Reservoir avenue, Revere, were in the office when MacDonald sighted the fire, which started in a one-story 100-foot shed.

He shouted to the girl to sound an alarm, and then he and Miss Sellin fled, the flames spreading rapidly.

As firemen and police arrived, however, MacDonald attempted to return into the blazing plant to save records. He reached the hallway and waas singed about the neck and head when Miss Sellin and Patrolman Joseph Coughlin seized him.

AFL Promotion For Fenton

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Pres. William Green of the American Federation of Labor appointed Francis P. Fenton of Boston today to be the AFL's national organization director.

Fenton, who studied law while working in a Boston coal yard, has served as regional organizer in New England and as president of the Boston Central Labor Union. He will succeed Lewis G. Hines, who resigned last month to become secretary of labor in Pennsylvania.

N. E. Gains Backers In Freight Rate Row

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—Rep. Pehr G. Holmes of Massachusetts, Republican, today reported congressmen from New York, New Jersey, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio rallying to the support of the New England delegation in its fight to beat off demands of the South and West for equalization of freight rates.

He made the announcement as congressional hearings on the whole matter of differentials were about to start.

EL FIRE SCARE

A fire which started in the motor box of a Boston Elevated street car on West Broadway in South Boston startled a score of passengers, but was extinguished even before firemen arrived.

British O.K. Franco In Commons Uproar

part of Spanish territory, both on and beyond the mainland.

"Included in this territory are the most important industrial centers in Spain and the sources of most of her productions.

"In these circumstances, his majesty's government have decided to inform General Franco of their decision to recognize his government as the government of Spain and formal action has been taken in this sense today."

Laborites again shouted "Shame!" and Communist William Gallagher cried:

"Another betrayal of democracy!"

Chamberlain then stated:

"I understand the French government also will be announcing their decision on this question today.

IMPEACHMENT CRY

"His majesty's government have noted with satisfaction the public statements of General Franco concerning the determination of himself and his government to secure the traditional independence of Spain and to take proceedings only in cases of those against whom criminal charges are laid."

In response to a question by Laborite Clement R. Attlee, opposition leader, he said the government would order a debate in Commons tomorrow on its decision.

When the Laborite persisted in further questions about the prospective debate, Chamberlain snapped:

"I am not going to be cross-examined about particular hours and moments without having notice."

Gallagher then shouted:

"You should be impeached!"

U. S. to Withhold Recognition for Present

Recognition of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regime in Spain by all the major powers except the United States and Soviet Russia became an accomplished fact today when France and Great Britain acknowledged his junta as the "sovereign government."

Washington dispatches said it was considered unlikely the United States would follow Britain and France in recognition of the insurgent government at an early date.

First Lady Wants To Fly Atlantic

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (INS)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, said today "I'd love to fly the Atlantic."

She made the remark as she commented on plans for her to christen the Pan-American's new transatlantic flying boat Friday afternoon.

PARIS O. K. TO FRANCO; WAR OVER

PARIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—The French cabinet today voted unanimously for recognition of the Nationalist rule of Generalissimo Francisco Franco as the legal government of Spain.

The French action followed swiftly on the heels of British Prime Minister Chamberlain's announcement to the House of Commons that Britain had accorded the Franco regime unconditional recognition.

Both actions, taken in concert, had been foreshadowed since Friday when Premier Daladier won support of the Chamber of Deputies for recognition of the Spanish Nationalists.

Meanwhile, Manuel Azzana fled from Paris, having resigned as the president of Spain.

Even Spanish republican circles here acknowledged that the Spanish civil war was virtually at an end, the decisions of Britain and France having pulled the last prop from under the tottering regime of Premier Juan Negrin.

A French ambassador to Burgos, Franco's capital, will be named this week. Senator Leon Berard, French emissary to Burgos, has been offered the post, but has declined. It is expected to go to a career diplomat.

President Albert Lebrun presided at the Cabinet meeting in Elysee Palace. A communique after the meeting adjourned said Daladier had reported on negotiations at Burgos between Berard and General Count Francisco Gomez Jordana, Nationalist foreign minister.

"He also explained accords which were reached in conclusion of negotiations," the communique said.

Alfonso's Son May Rule Spain

LONDON, Feb. 27 (INS)—At the appropriate moment Generalissimo Franco intends to invite Prince Juan, youngest living son of the former King Alfonso of Spain, to occupy the throne, it was learned today.

The prince, or Don Juan as he is more commonly known, is in Rome with his wife, the former Princess Maria Mercedes of Bourbon.

The heir presumptive to the Spanish throne is awaiting the call from the Insurgent Spanish chieftain, which he will obey with the consent of his father. Alfonso now realizes that he is a most unlikely candidate to reascend the throne.

Franco's chief advisors are now determined to establish forthwith a limited monarchy in Spain similar to that in England.

Kennedy In Warning To Britain on Jews

some foreign country would accept them.

Five times as many as police had ordered to appear had reported at the office by noon. A total of 100 daily are being notified to get their papers ready and leave within two weeks.

Leaders of the estimated 160,000 Jews in Berlin must submit each day, beginning today, the names of 100 Jews who can leave within a fortnight. Sufficient names were said to be available to meet the order for the next three or four days, but Jewish authorities held little hope of keeping up the pace thereafter.

Jewish leaders said they told police the 100 a day figure was so high that some could not obtain visas in the allotted two weeks. But they promised to step up emigration as much as possible.

Jewish spokesmen pointed out that last month they were able to arrange for emigration of only 3000 Jews from all Germany. The new order requires such a quota from Berlin alone.

So far as could be learned, the new order affected only the Berlin area, where thousands of Jews from smaller cities have sought refuge.

Bombings in Holy Land Kill 34, Wound 50

JERUSALEM, Feb. 27 (INS)—Thirty-four persons were killed and 50 wounded today in 14 separate bombings and shootings as a wave of terroristic violence swept Palestine in the wake of reports from London that Great Britain intends to create an independent Arabian Palestine state.

As Jews held protest meetings and Arabs staged street demonstrations of rejoicing, Haifa was rocked by the bombings in which 21 Arabs were killed and 47 wounded. Three Jews were also killed by explosions.

One Jew was killed in Tel-Aviv, and the vital Iraq pipe line was punctured and set afire at five different places.

In Jerusalem's "old city" a bomb killed three and wounded six, two of the latter being Jews.

Hollywood Notes

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Constance Bennett and Gene Raymond were married yesterday in Yuma, Ariz., after a romance that began when they played together in "The Common Clay" on the New York stage nearly three years ago. Wednesday A Doubleday Doctor will be issued by Constance's former husband, Philip Plant, and Gene's former wife, Ann Harding.

If Virginia Bruce and Jack Gilbert are not married by the time you read this, it will be because they have changed their minds. Jack has been in Las Vegas, Nev., for the last week, and Virginia has been waiting in Los Angeles.

The Life of Christ

CHAPTER TWO

The three Kings of the East adore the new-born Saviour and lavish gifts upon Him.

By COLLIN CLINE

FAR SPREAD [illegible] of the Babe born in [illegible], Bethlehem [illegible] at that instant lands [illegible] the surprising [illegible] Wise Men asking:

"Where is He that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen His star in the East, and are come to worship Him."

Traditionally [illegible] Melchior, King of Nubia; Balthasar, King [illegible] and Gaspar, King of Tarshish.

"THE LIFE OF CHRIST" began yesterday in the Boston Sunday Advertiser. Presenting the world's most beautiful story, illustrated by the famous artists of the ages, it will continue daily in the Evening American and Sunday Advertiser.

The [illegible] of their presence was quickly announced to King Herod [illegible] to him and said:

"The [illegible] of the young Child, and when ye have found Him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship Him also."

But we [illegible] Herod had no intention of ever paying homage to any [illegible] the son of Mary and Joseph. In his heart there was [illegible] you will hear.

Of course [illegible] Wise Men set forth at once for Bethlehem, and, as they [illegible] a star appeared in the sky. Westward it moved. And they [illegible] and with great eagerness.

Above [illegible] star stopped. The Wise Men entered, saw the Baby King [illegible] Him, and gave Him rich gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh.

And, lo, [illegible] Father in Heaven spoke. What happened, [illegible] will show you tomorrow.

Today's picture [illegible] "Adoration of the Kings" and showing Melchior, Balthasar and Gaspar acclaiming the Infant Saviour, was [illegible] the Italian Primitive of the fifteenth century by Quentin Matsys, Flemish artist, who, like many of his time, clothed the Biblical characters in the raiment of the Middle Ages.

BOOKWORM "COPS"

are deplored by Representative Thomas J. Hannon, Jr., of Boston, who has asked the Legislature to [illegible] credit for meritorious service.

"Our police [illegible] are so anxious to gain promotion that they spend [illegible] time studying for examinations and worrying about their [illegible]."

Many [illegible] of the Boston Police Department will [illegible] the [illegible]. And many will argue that the star officer is not necessarily [illegible] with the retentive memory and the ability glibly to [illegible].

There is, of course, a solution—this: Let the law be revised [illegible] to reward men who do exceptional work while on duty [illegible] to receive credits that will hasten their elevation to higher and more responsible posts.

The Legislature does [illegible] have to abolish Civil Service tests or devise ways to circumvent them in order to recognize meritorious service.

FOR THE PEACE of mind of [illegible] that ferocious old von Clausewitz, it is perhaps just as well that he stalked off to Valhalla long ago.

[illegible] great Prussian, war was [illegible] a game. Countless plebes in [illegible] have labored over his strategy of mass attack, as gaudy and complicated as a Ziegfeld revue. They have been taught that such tactics was somehow based on classic and immutable laws of human conduct.

KATHARINE CORNELL WEIGHS OFFER TO MAKE FILM

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK Feb 27 FET DEPT.: Warden Lawes of Sing Sing, directed that the prisoners be refused permission to keep pets . . . This ruling resulted in the eviction of Bar-Rag, a mongrel pup which had become the favorite of the inmates. But despite this ban and the barred gates Bar-Rag was seen on the prison grounds.

After a week of the mystery Lawes had the dog trailed and discovered that the pup secured entrance to the grounds by first crossing the New York Central tracks, then swimming up the Hudson and beyond the closed gates. The warden therefore waived the rule as far as Bar-Rag was concerned and now allows him on the grounds . . . Lawes, who officiates at all the Sing Sing executions where humans are electrocuted waived the no-pet rule because he was afraid that the mongrel pup might be electrocuted on the third rail of the New York Central tracks.

MOVIES: Katharine Cornell is reconsidering her power never to appear before a movie camera and is pondering over an offer from MGM. If she accepts she may portray "Madame Curie." Sam Evans, the noted theatrical agent, has his own reasons why the project should find favor . . . Greer Garson is to portray Mme. Curie. She looks exactly as Mme. Curie looked in her youth. I knew Mme. Curie well. I used to go to the Curies in Paris. In fact, I happen to have the Curie home . . .

BEATRICE LILLIE

ETIQUETTE DEPT.: Grace Moore, whose salary before the Duke and Duchess of Windsor resulted in front-page publicity, was a guest at Beatrice Lillie's house last night. . . . Would you please tell us, Duchess of Windsor? a reporter asked Mrs. Lillie. . . . I would curtsey before the Duke when he one of my friends, answered Lady Peel (and then how I know it would make Bea Lillie die) . . . Peel.

DRAMA DEPT.: George Abbott, producer of Call It Murder, brings a play to Broadway every night. . . . It's a strange thing, commented Abbott before Beatrice Lillie left the party, and everybody was curious to see what was in it. . . . Why don't get a real Miss Lillie, exposed, and show Broadway what it looks like.

SCOUTS DEPT.: Eva Le Gallienne went to the Women's Advertising Association party last night, where executives were scouting for talent for New York. . . . The producer arrived when each girl was competing a turn at the end of the party. She stepped forward on the dance floor and took three deep breaths when the crowd applauded. . . . No, no, I can't think we can use her, said Eva. She needs a lot of work to be done. She wasn't auditioning, an official associate told her. She's just swimming here every day and she doesn't get winded very easily. Her form is perfect.

BOSTON After DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: In his amusing monthly brochure the Sandalwood Herald Editor Oursler, the editor, makes an annual award for motion picture advertising . . . Here is what he chooses for the prize-winning blurb of 1938: "Far beyond the highest dramatic power the world has ever known, with pride that is humble before greatness, Warner Bros. bring you 'Angels With Dirty Faces.'" . . .

But in making his award this year Editor Oursler, who makes his home in Falmouth and edits a chain of magazines between writing fiction under the pen-name of Anthony Abbott goes back a few years to find another gem. It appeared on the souvenir program of the Hollywood premiere of Loew's with Jean Crawford, in Sid Grauman's Chinese theater. Here THAT is:

"What Shakespeare was to the drama, what Michael Angelo was to painting and sculpture, what Beethoven was to music—this and much more is Sid Grauman to pictures!" What by the way ever happened to Mr. Grauman?

YOUR REPORTER: . . . I'm sure you'll agree that these are nice examples of their kind but please Mr. Oursler and all of us watch carefully . . . so we won't be taken in by the long-winded boasts circulated by the press department of the New Yorkers. Would Editor Oursler may call objective the sentence he chose as typifying the movie boys on "Dodge"?

For instance one of the items we received on No. 6300 from the Boys publicity department reads:

"All speed records of recent years and time and space will be shattered at the New York World's Fair 1939—the Theater of Time and Space where visitors will be taken to the far away shores of other worlds across the dark cosmic depths aboard a miniature rocket ship which annihilates distance at the tremendous speed of 4,000,000,000,000 miles per hour."

FOR SOME REASON Mayor Kelly's latest space grabbing foray . . . under the bulging robes of Justice . . . left this department limp . . . A sense of humor like this should be encouraged.

After again declaring . . . Governor Saltonstall adds his name to the list of comedians who insist on staying as warm-up band . . . Mickey Alpert wishes to be Mayor of . . . George M's child on to the Parkman Bandstand for an engagement in Boston.

NOW THAT THE LIFE of Nancy Astor is about to be filmed an interesting question arises as to the type of life role played by Patsy Ruth Miller's daughter of the waterfront. Mrs. Miller got the girl a job in the picture of Mrs. Astor's life of 1934 and conducted her to the Astor estate in New York. Miss Miller who was still in her teens at the time always swore and declared that Nancy's behavior was not because of the boy she was with but because of the boy she was not with . . . Nicky heard through the press grapevine that the stage-struck kid was on her way to Hollywood. He got out word to Patsy and Miss Miller escorted the stranger to Sam Harris and Irving Berlin's Music Box Revue producers after learning that Nancy's mother

HOLLYWOOD Feb 27—The . . . Paul Muni-Louise Rainer-Muller's "Triumph Over Pain" has been acquired by Paramount. Arthur Hornblow Jr. who will produce it and who was responsible for the purchase of this fascinating book, believes it to be at least Pasteur.

IF ADMIRING eyes don't focus on your feet and ankles this spring, it's certainly bound to be your own fault, because the new shoes are veritable sorcerers that flatter any foot quite indescribably!

We've never seen so much patent leather twinkling around and Parisian reports from Florida indicate that it is a bigger favorite than it has been for years and years.

Color is to be reckoned with. One of the loveliest is a new red with just a quite brilliant hit added to make it perfect here. It's called Pompeiian on the shoes where we found these adorable babies. These carriage shoes are slipped and tied and fastened and cut at the ankle.

They're little and feminine, going with their round toes and fragile heels. FILM QUEEN SPURNS GOLD AND FAME

CHAPTER ONE

"BUT I don't like fish!" shouted Gloria Newcombe, the top-ranking star of Important Pictures, Inc.

"Look, Gloria. Look, Gloria! Will you just listen for a minute? For just one little minute?"

"But I have been listening! I've been listening to you for days, and what do I hear? Fish! That's what I hear. Honestly, Moe, if I didn't know you better than your own grandmother I'd think you were in some kind of a plot to drive me completely crazy! Look at me, Moe. You know what I'm like. You know how I am about fish."

"Do I know about it! Can I ever remember anything else? And has it driven me nuts? You know the answer."

Moe Wurtzberg, the well-known Hollywood agent, threw himself into the chair with such violence that the springs squeaked like so many gerbils, who are men with eyes of glass and hearts of gold. Moe just sensed a heart so big that it touched the outside of his chest, so he was not hurt except in the words.

When they stormed in stormed out, they always did so in pairs. Gloria and Moe, Moe and Gloria. Everybody in Hollywood knew that Moe Wurtzberg was the best in the business to handle temperamental stars, to fix up their contracts, to get them out of hysterical divorce proceedings, to keep their names out of the newspapers.

He loved Gloria as he loved his own wife, and with the exception of Mrs. Wurtzberg, Gloria was the only woman who ever got Moe's full attention. Moe was married to a woman who was a combination of Florence Nightingale and Lucrezia Borgia. She was a wonderful wife, but she was a terrible nuisance. She was always trying to get Moe to come home and rest, and Moe was always trying to get away from her.

Moe Wurtzberg was a little man with a big head, a big nose, big ears, big eyes, big hands and feet, and a big heart. He was a big man in his profession, and he was a big man in his home. He was a big man in his community. He was a big man in his church. He was a big man in his country. He was a big man in his world. He was a big man in his universe. He was a big man in his eternity.

SEC PLANS PROBE OF FOREIGN 'POOLS'

(Copyright, 1939, by International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—Reports of "pool" operations in American stocks on the London and Amsterdam securities markets will be investigated by the Securities and Exchange Commission, it is reported.

During the past year . . . [illegible] . . . persons have informed the commission that certain groups are trading in American . . . [illegible] . . . on foreign markets in such a way as to influence the prices of these stocks on exchanges in the United States.

Austen Lake

Hose Off to Land Of Sun and Fun

THE HOUNDS OF SPRING ARE ON winter's traces. Today the Red Sox roll toward Florida's coral strand.

It may be the working of a morbid imagination that prompts me to dream of venomous snakes and loose alligators when I think of the tinsel luxury of the Florida coast, where the Red Sox and the Bees take their early sunburn, shoot their golf and fish with bait the size of puppies for fish the size of billygoats.

AUSTEN LAKE.

A short march from the still thriving tourist centers like Sarasota and Bradenton there are still to be found traces of the era known as the Coolidge civilization, tumbled, half buried rubbish of some real estate booster's delirium, such as the unfinished ruin of John Ringling's dream hotel which bleaches on the Bay and is tenanted with pelicans, mice and things which live in the walls.

The coast is spotted with similar ruins and the wanderer comes unexpectedly upon reeling rows of street lamps, tumbled archways, grand concourses, lagoons and horticultural vistas which have long since returned to original jungle—like the late John McGraw's Pennant Park, now existing only as monuments to a deluded past. They are limbos of lost dreams.

Now the wild razor back hog stamps through the bracken and the tangle of needle palms, where McGraw had imagined gorgeous stretches of lawn peopled with gorgeous ladies and made males. The alligator pools [illegible] from the nearby waters where McGraw's [illegible] Lakeland baseball [illegible] delas. Even [illegible] from the [illegible] where John [illegible] on play yards. Tampa [illegible]

[illegible]

FOR AN ADDITIONAL SMALL COIN the ladies of the village who were pretty slack, thick, sad and always toothless after late childhood would jounce and stamp their bare feet, while the wiry, sly-eyed bucks bowed their tuneless chants.

Thus, the proprietor said, was the original, prehistoric and authentic dance to the Seminole's Sun Goddess, a little carved replica of which could be had for the trivial sum of 75 cents.

So from the earliest history, the Sun has been the ruling force of Florida's people, both native and transient, and is worshipped now by women in satin slacks, men who traipse about in golf bloomers and swarms of elderly heliotropes who sit drenching their thinned blood in the healing rays.

This is the final, geographic frontier, where much of the land reclaimed during that peculiar social spasm called the "boom" has been yielded back to nature. But much of the gain has been held too, and is being slowly consolidated as the young cities, like Sarasota, ripen into maturity.

A REACTION TOWARD SANITY HAS set in gradually since the real estate madness, when professional no-goods flocked down to feed on the unwary with shell games and contests of "pure skill"—chiseleries and forms of chicanery which have mulcted the credulous since the Apple of Eden. And still do.

But a large share of these wrong-living citizens, of both sexes, still come, though now mostly to the East Coast, which is a glorified Coney Island, and the cities at this time of the year are choked with derelicts who, as the weather ripens toward Spring, are wishful to return to their Northern haunts, but lack a sufficient bankroll to do so.

So there are devious means, such as one a boss racketeer invented a year ago. The boss set up branch offices throughout the Golden Horn and kept careful track of wealthy Northern visitors as they died and contracted to deliver their remains in their home towns. Then he sold the stranded derelicts, for whatever they could afford, the privilege of accompanying the embalmed remains, with transportation pre-paid by the surviving relatives, to the Northern burial point.

Thus, an ingenious means of making a two-way profit from in-

BILL'S SPORT-O-GRIMES

Scorers Ruining N. H. L. Values | Storm Brewing Over Eli Coach

Annually, along about this stage of the N. H. L. race, the fans turn their attentions to the individual records of the players. But, generally, they scan only the total number of points acquired. Seldom do they analyze the individual accomplishments as to goals scored and assists awarded.

It's a well known fact among the players of the N. H. L. that Boston is the toughest town for assists. In New York and in other cities, but particularly Gotham, solo goals are practically unheard of and only on very rare occasions are less than two players credited with assists on every scoring play. Two assists on rebounds, a direct violation of the scoring rules, are as common as ink.

Since the start of the season, the Bruins have been out in front in the struggle for N. H. L. honors. Moreover, they have been top scorers but when the last official individual scoring list was released by President Frank Calder a week ago, Bob Bauer, the leading Bruin scorer, was 20th. Bauer was topped by five Rangers, four Americans and Canadiens, two Red Wings and the same number of Maple Leafs.

Dave Schriner and Tommy Anderson of the Americans have been credited with 23 assists each, as has Paul Haynes, Les Canadiens. Now, in view of the fact that when the last official list was released the Duttonmen had scored only 94 goals, Schriner and Anderson must have seen plenty of service this season to acquire a total of 46 assists, which is five more than the Kraut Line, plus Roy Conacher have received. Haynes has scored only four goals while Anderson and Schriner have tallied ten times each. On the other hand, Bauer, Schmidt, Dumart and Conacher have accounted for 48 of the Bruin tallies.

As I see it, Roy Conacher, "Toe" Blake and Alex Shibicky are the leading N. H. L. scorers. Blake has been aided by 18 assists, which accounts for his being at the top of the list but Conacher has only six assists to his credit and Shibicky, who must be on the outs with the New York official scorers, has only seven.

Despite the loose system of scoring, magnates, with the exception of Art Ross are constantly protesting that such and such a player should have been given assists. Then, they turn around and increase salaries and pay bonuses on the phoney individual records.

JEREMIAH CLICKS AT DARTMOUTH

Eddie Jeremiah has a perfect record as Dartmouth hockey coach . . . Two starts, two championships . . . And, Eddie is not only an alumnus of the Hanover, N. H., institution but he is a product of Greater Boston . . . "Dit" Clapper, Jack Portland and Jack Crawford did all right by themselves in Toronto . . . "Dit" received a sterling tea set from his friend in Hastings . . . Down from Collingwood came some old pals of Portland's and presented the former Canadian Olympic high jumper with a wrist watch and Crawford is bringing a coffee tray back to Boston . . . With the proper backing, the Montreal Royals would fit nicely into the N. H. L. picture . . . As the coach, big Nels Stewart will be an asset to the Royals in big time hockey . . . Charlie Sands suffered a relapse in Toronto and didn't dress for the game.

Connie Smythe says that the Maple Leafs have started to roll and that they are going to be touch to beat during the coming play offs . . . Any time the Leafs can beat the Bruins without Syl Apps and Harvey "Busher" Jackson in the line up, they are worthy of plenty of consideration for Stanley Cup honors . . . The Leafs have perked up since Buzz Boll returned . . . Buzz was lost to the club during the opening game of the season with Bruins and didn't return until last week.

Illness prevented Dr. William R. Ross from making his 21st trip South with the Red Sox . . . Dr. Ross was to have been with Phil Troy's party when it pulled out for Sarasota this morning but the well known dentist was a "flu" victim last week and is still confined to his bed, although practically recovered . . . However, George Murphy, the Lewiston, Me., furrier, is with the Bees, making his 11th consecutive journey to the Land of Sunshine . . . Murphy got the urge to go South with the ball clubs when Bill Carrigan returned to the game in 1927 . . .

Frank Kanalay's cause wasn't helped when Yale finished last in the fourth annual Quadrangular meet . . . Kanalay is very popular with the undergraduates at New Haven and the Yale A. A. will be on the receiving end of some straight from the shoulder jibes before the veteran track coach winds up his career with the Elis in June . . . Harry Hillman, the Dartmouth track coach, declares that Dr. George Butler, former mayor of E. Wallingford, Vt., now socially prominent in Hanover, N. H., can draw a better picture of him than that published in a Saturday A. M. "rag" . . . Jimmy Lightboy, Jr., is a chip off the old block . . . His father was a member of the 1904 and 1908 U. S. Olympic teams . . . "Pappy" was badly scalded in an open air shower bath at Brighton Beach, England, in '08 and Coach Mike Murphy refused to allow him to run . . .

Five Bay State Quintets Picked For N. E. Tourney

Five Massachusetts schools will be represented in the field of eight which will comprise the entries for the sixth annual New England Catholic Interscholastic basketball tournament scheduled to get underway Friday afternoon at the Boston Arena.

Completing the exclusive circle, Rhode Island will send two teams, with New Hampshire represented by a single quintet.

Mission high school, winner of the Greater Boston Catholic League title and defending champion, heads the list of Bay State schools. The Roxbury boys romped to victory last year in the play sponsored by the St. Alphonsus club, and will take its place this season with the favorites.

Our Lady's High of Newton, winner in an elimination series for the runner-up post in the Catholic League, gained its standing with a hard fought victory over St. Charles High of Waltham Saturday.

Coyle High of Taunton, St. Bernard's High of Fitchburg and Holy Rosary High of Holyoke are the other Bay State schools selected.

St. Mary's high of Claremont, N. H., St. Raphael Academy, Pawtucket, R. I., and DeLaSalle A cademy, Newport, R. I., will be the other invaders.

Of the entire eight, DeLaSalle Academy is the only team which has never before been represented in the tourney.

the South Station this morning, for when Fritz Ostermueller came to terms over the week-end it meant that every body on the roster could start from scratch. That's always nepiful. Clubhouse communists do not help.

After a stop this evening at New Haven to pick up Gene Desautels and Wilfrid Lefebvre, the special will take its speed seriously, arriving in Sarasota tomorrow evening at 6:15.

Already on hand at the camp are Cronin, Foxx, Grove, Galehouse, rookie infielders Paul Campbell, who hopes to take Foxxie's job, poor kid); Jim Tabor and Tom Ir. win; rookie outfielders Ted Williams, Chet Morgan and Stanley Spence.

Rossmen Drop Chicago Hawks Into Last Place

By BILL GRIMES

After starting the defense of their world's championship title with victories over Americans and Toronto and taking both ends of a home and home series from Les Canadiens, the Chicago Black Hawks, the miracle team of the 1938 Stanley Cup series, landed in the cellar of the N. H. L. last night, through a combination of their 5-to-1 defeat at the hands of the Bruins and Canadiens' 3-to-0 win over Rangers in New York.

Under Bill Stewart, the Hawks managed to stay in fourth place until the middle of the season, when Dorchester Bill was let out and the club turned over to Paul Thompson and Carl Voss.

Apparently the Hawks never recovered from the effects of Major McLaughlin's decision to change horses in the middle of the stream. They have been slipping steadily for almost two months and in their present demoralized condition, it's very doubtful if they'll be able to pull themselves together to qualify for the play offs.

CANADIENS CLICK

Under Jules Dugal, who succeeded Cecil Hart as manager, Les Canadiens have been clicking for more than a month and are out of the cellar for the first time this season. A week ago, the Flying Frenchmen took two decisions from the Americans and over this week-end they tied Rangers in Montreal and beat them in New York, thereby annexing no less than seven points from the New York clubs in four games.

The Detroit Red Wings surprised their most ardent enthusiasts by taking a 5-to-1 verdict from the Maple Leafs last night and are in fifth place a full game up on Les Canadiens, who, in turn, are one point up on the Black Hawks.

HAWKS PROVE EASY

The Bruins had a comparatively easy time knocking off the Hawks last night in Chicago. Milt Schmidt, Roy Conacher and Dit Clapper scored in the first period and the Rossmen were content to breeze along under half speed with a 3 to 1 lead until late in the final period when Ray Getliffe and Bobby Bauer counted.

After breaking even on the trip, the Rossmen are on their way home. Although they are not due to arrive until tomorrow noon, the Bruins are confident that they will stop Les Canadiens tomrorow night at the Garden. However, because Wm Green left the club in Chicago and started for Sarasota, the Bruins who were bunged up in the Hawks game will be unable to receive any treatments today and may be in poor physical condition for tomorrow's tilt with the Frenchmen.

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Bruins 5, Blackhawks 1.
Canadiens 3, Rangers 0.
Detroit 3, Toronto 1.

GRID PROS OFFER GRAYSON $6000

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—That $6000 offer to play pro football still is open to Bobby Grayson any time he wants to quit his $2400 coaching job at Stanford and come East . . . Jimmy Bronson, who seconded Gene Tunney in the famous "long count" fight with Dempsey in Chicago 12 years ago, will be in Al Ryll's corner in Baltimore tonight when Al goes against Dempsey's heavyweight, Bill Boyd.

Old Dazzy Vance says the "big show must have a lousy scouting system or it would have signed Larry MacPhail before now.

Rogers Hornsby

Browns and Cardinals have signed five kids from Rogers Hornsby's baseball schools . . . Feelers have been sent Pitt, Alabama, Fordham and Carnegie Tech for a game with Oklahoma at Norman Oct. 28 or Dec. 2. Coach Tom Stidham will guarantee $15,000, maybe more. Trouble is most of the big name schools already have full schedules for 1939 . . . "Sinister Dick" Kinsella, former Giant scout who discovered both Carl Hubbell and Jo Jo Moore is taking bows in Hot Springs. Dick now is quite a politician around Springfield, Ill.

The Yanks have the inside track on Roman Roh, Creighton U's high scoring basketball player who also is quite a baseball chucker . . . Keep an eye on Walter Franklin, Canadian middleweight, who'll be up there among the leaders once he gets a few more fights under his belt and acquires a bit of polish . . . Mark Roth began his 36th training trip as traveling secretary of the Yanks Saturday with a record of never having lost a trunk . . . Patty Berg hopes to break a three-year jinx and crash through to the Florida East Coast golf championship in the tourney starting tomorrow.

Col. Bill Cox of the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot, boarded his paddle-jumper and took a vacation among the peepul. In the sports field he found them chewing the rag in this order: 1—Who's going to beat the Yanks? 2—Who's going to beat Joe Louis? 3—Why isn't Babe Ruth managing a big league ball club? . . . Mid-West fans will bet you the gaudiest basketball in the world is played in the Missouri Valley A. A. U. League . . . Pinehurst and the Golden Gate Exposition are bidding nip and tuck for the 1939 Ryder Cup matches and are raising the ante in chunks of $500 a throw.

A New Jersey hotel syndicate would like to build a bowl seating 60,000 and stage a bout between Joe Louis and the Baer-Nova winner at Lakewood during the World's Fair. P. Mike Jacobs will put on Louis vs. either the Baer-Nova winner or Galento at the Yankee Stadium in June . . . Miami, where you can get a sun tan in January while ice skating in your shirt sleeves, features bowling, genereally regarded as a winter sport, during the summer.

St. Anselm's Get Spot On C. U. Schedule

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Catholic University announced today the addition of three teams to its 1939 football schedule.

Elon College of North Carolina and Tulsa of Oklahoma will be played in Washington. St. Anselm's will be met in Boston.

Hockey Title Play at Arena

As a result of amateur hockey enjoying its most successful season in years, the New England A. A. U. championships scheduled for the Boston Arena March 7, 13 and 14 shape up as one of the outstanding ice attractions in this neighborhood this winter.

The increased interest in the "pure" game coupled with the abundance of outdoor ice has been responsible for nearly 10 times as many boys and adults playing hockey this winter as compared to previous seasons and also has caused the formation of hundreds of new teams all over this section. The result has been an improved brand of puck-chasing.

There are still some pretty robust and sturdy pioneers in Sarasota who came in before the railroads, when the town was little more than a trading post and fishing port, accessible mainly by coasting steamers. Now the county jail is an ambitious palace of pink and cream stucco which hoists its Spanish tower into the sky. The streets are broad and filled with pretty ladies and male peacocks. Its hotels, banks, stores and thirst parlors teem with industry.

"Here," says Imagination, "On this very spot, except for the enterprise of the railroad promoters and the real estate pluggers, who cleared and citified this little margin of shore within recent years would remain a jungle where the red deer, 'coon, 'possum, snake and alligator roamed."

'Pures' Battle to Reach N. E. Finals Tonight

Mr. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

Bees, Sox Have Pennant Hopes | Clubs Improved By New Deals

BY NIGHTFALL tomorrow the advance guards of Bees and Red Sox will be entrenched under Florida skies. New pennant drives will have been started with high hopes of ultimate success.

There is greater interest in baseball in Boston and throughout New England than ever. The capacity gathering at the Baseball Writers' dinner at the Copley Plaza was advance proof of the hold the national pastime has on the public.

Boston has long been rated as the greatest baseball city in the country. Even when it was represented by two losing teams the fans patronized the ball games, and kept rooting for the time when this city would once more have a pennant winner.

The Red Sox have been building towards a pennant ever since youthful Tom Yawkey started spending his millions for ball players and for a new baseball plant. Yawkey has already poured $4,000,000 into the Red Sox. He tried to get a pennant the quick way which was by purchasing players of known ability. It didn't work, and he then established an extensive farm system similar to the one that has been of so much help to the Yankees.

Yawkey has also reserved the right to purchase what experienced major league players he could get. He has acquired Auker from Detroit and Galehouse from Cleveland, and it is expected that these two flingers will help the pitching staff of the Sox.

"I have a right to spend my money any way I wish," Yawkey has said when he has been criticized by second guessers for spending lavish sums of money for ball players.

Yawkey is right. He also had the privilege to rebuild Fenway Park in the cold of Winter during the low of the depression when men needed work to provide the necessities of life for their families. Even a fire could not halt Yawkey in his desire to give Boston the best in a baseball plant as well as in a ball club. It is natural that the whole town is rooting for the success of the Sox.

It is hoped that the Sox sluggers retain their batting punch until some of the new pitching and other defensive strength has a chance to prove its merits.

The Yanks are once more my choice to win the American League pennant, but if the Sox can get some good pitching during the coming season they will make Joe McCarthy's club realize it is in a real fight.

Bees Now Have Some .300 Hitters

THERE WILL be eleven .300 hitters in the Bees' squad that will get into condition at Bradenton. True, most of these batting averages were made in the minor leagues, but under the law of averages the Bees should develop a few major league .300 hitters out of this collection of players.

The Bees once more have airtight pitching. Bob Quinn and Casey Stengel have improved their pitching power as well as their battling strength.

The National League has not an outstanding club like the Yanks, and so the Bees have a splendid opportunity to get into the pennant fihgt in earnest.

Bob Quinn has proved the most astute trader in baseball, and it looks as if he has come up with a club that is going to give Boston some fine baseball.

Southern Training Camps

THERE WILL be a dull routine in the training camps for the next ten days. By the end of that time it will be possible for the experts to get a line on some of the new material, and also see how the veterans are shaping up for the coming campaign.

It has been the history of Southern training camps that the youngsters who shine in the early stages of the drill usually fade out of the picture once the league season gets underway.

Youth and the fact some of the new players have been taking part in games in the South and in California often accounts for these early flashes of ability.

This is why one should string along with the seasoned .300 hitter until he has had an opportunity to prove his worth under big league fire.

Big Entry List Set At Arena

The largest list of amateur punch tossers ever to appear in any New England championship elimination series will swap punches tonight at the Boston Arena when the Irish-American A. A. stages the second last tryout tourney.

There will be contests in all 8 classes at championship weights—flyweight to heavyweight — and enough action will be crowded into the program to appease the appetites of the most rabid ring followers.

Tonight's winners will qualify, together with last week's crowned heads as well as next Monday night's victors, plus the 1939 Mass. state and diamond belt champions, for the New England finals, which are to be held at the Garden, March 13.

Every amateur boxer in New England wants to win a sectional title this year. From the showing of the boys in the New Englands a team will be selected to go to San Francisco the second week in April to compete in the National A. A. U. championships.

These elimination bouts are open to all registered A. A. U. boxers in Vermont, New Hampshire and Rhode Island.

SHADOW COCKY OVER COMING BOUT

By RINGSIDE

"The Shadow" doesn't use the word IF in discussing his future following his world's heavyweight championship wrestling bout with Steve Casey at the Garden on Thursday night.

"WHEN I become champion by pinning Casey," said the mystery man of the mat, "I shall take on all-comers. It won't be necessary for the American Wrestling Association or Paul Bowser to insist that I clash with the outstanding challenger.

"As champion, I shall have explicit confidence in my ability to conquer any wrestler inthe world."

"The Shadow" has displayed exceptional ability as well as strength in his Boston matches, and he will not lack for backers when he opposes Casey.

The champion isn't concerned over the confidence of "The Shadow."

The big Irishman says he discovered a weakness in "The Shadow's" defense in their last tussle, and he is certain he will be able to win the coming match.

Gus Sonnenberg, former world's champion, will try to continue his come back campaign when he opposes Rebel Bob Russell in a special bout.

In the semifinal, Harry Jacobs will oppose Pay Kelly, while in preliminary matches The Sheik will take on Everett Kibbons, Tom Casey will oppose Joe Maynard, while Lord Albert Mills will try to conquer Pat Reilly.

A. A. U. Discards Metric System

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—The see-saw of American track authorities between measuring their races in yards or meters has teetered back to yards with a recommendation of the executive committee of the Amateur Athletic Union that its indoor championships hereafter be held under linear standards.

President Samuel E. Hoyt was authorized to appoint a committee of seven to consider revision of the program at the indoor championships and this group in turn will report to the annual A. A. U. convention in Miami next December.

All members of the executive committee, as well as the foreign relations committee which met in conjunction, appeared agreed on the advantages, of returning to the yards-and-miles measurement indoors, retaining the metric system outdoors.

Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U., explained, "return to the linear system indoors will permit the athletes to compete at familiar distances comparable to the races sponsored by other organizations.

Lash Awarded Memorial Cup

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—Don Lash, the Indiana state policeman and star distance runner, received the 1938 James E. Sullivan memorial award by officials of the Amateur Athletic Union of America.

Ninth to be chosen in the annual nationwide poll of sports leaders as the athlete who "by his performance, example and influence as an amateur and as a man, has done most during the year to advance the cause of sportsmanship," Lash declared huskily, "This is one of the crowning events in my life."

Engraved on the base of the statuette were some of the slender Hoosier's accomplishments: Member of the 1936 Olympic team, holder of American two mile record, five times A. A. U. cross-country champion.

In making the presentation, President Samuel E. Hoyt of the A. A. U. called attention to the many medals, cups and plaques Lash had won and added:

"You may have to build a house to hold them. But you won them in competition. This trophy you won by your fine conduct and splendid sportsmanship more than by excellence in running."

The award was first made to Bobby Jones in 1930 and then successively to Barney Berlinger, Jim Bausch, Glenn Cunningham, Bill Bonthron, Lawson Little, Jr., Glenn Morris and Don Budge.
